HEAT DEATHS TOTAL 56

Los Angeles Area, In 8th Day Of Wave, Hopes For Relief Saturday

Maximum temperature in Placerville on Thursday was 95 degrees; the minimum 60. It was the first time for six days that the maximum temperature recorded was less than 98 degrees. Today's readings were not available before press time.

MERCURY MOUNTS

LOS ANGELES, (UP)—Temperatures mounted rapidly today in Los Angeles in spite of weather bureau forecasts for moderate relief from a heat wave which has gripped California for eight days and taken at least 56 lives.

Dawn broke with thermometers registering 84 degrees. The temperature jumped to 93 degrees by 8 o'clock, nine degrees higher than at the same time yesterday.

One new death, attributed in part at least to heat exhaustion, was reported by the coroner's office.

Government meteorologist L. H. Dainoffield had expressed belief that the record heat wave had passed its peak and was leveling off. He forecast cloudy skies tonight with thunderstorms in the mountains and foothills.

Nearest relief in sight now was for tomorrow afternoon. Dainoffield predicted continued high temperatures but cooler tomorrow afternoon, with light winds becoming southerly. He said, however, California can expect no great relief for several days.

STAGG STARTS GOLDEN JUBILEE FOOTBALL YEAR SATURDAY

Sacramento Scots Sponsor Intersectional Game At Stadium As Veteran Grid Mentor Leads Bengals Against South Dakota Coyotes

"The Grand Old Man of Football" and of several other American sports to boot starts his golden jubilee year in the gridiron game Saturday night at the Sacramento stadium.

Amos Alonzo Stagg, for whom "life began" six years ago when he came to the College of Pacific at Stockton after a forced retirement at the University of Chicago because of reaching the age limit, probably Narrow escapes from newspaper work and professional baseball gave Amos Alonzo Stagg the opportunity to become the grand old man of American football.

This fall Stagg celebrates his golden anniversary as a gridiron mentor. He is the dean of American football coaches and the first in history to coach the sport continuously for half a century.

Stagg is known as one of the game's greatest strategists. At small College of the Pacific in Stockton, California, he developed a team which last year trounced the University of Chicago.

Despite the offer of fat contracts from major baseball leagues, and a yen for newspaper work, Stagg seemed destined to devote his life to football and character building.

The white-haired, 77-year-old coach was a star baseball player in high school. Not until he entered Yale did he ever block and tackle on a gridiron, and then during his college days he was better known for his pitching and hitting skill rather than for his football talent.

In 1887, he hit for an average of .417 in 11 games, and against Harvard struck out 20 batters. After playing on five Yale championship teams (eligibility rules were less strict in those days and Stagg was a graduate student for two years), he was offered berths in several professional clubs. Pittsburgh topped them all with an offer of $5,000, and the New York Giants bid $4,300. He turned them down.

Journalism beckoned to young Stagg in 1888 when he served as an associate editor of the Yale News, but the fever failed to last.

During his 50 years as a football coach, Stagg spent two years at Springfield, Mass., college, 41 at the University of Chicago and the past six years at College of the Pacific.

At Chicago he built up his distinction as a coach of winning teams and a molder of youthful character to become one of the most distinguished figures in American sports. When retirement overtook him at Chicago, Stagg could not quit despite his 71 years. His zest was for the turf on a crisp fall afternoon and a crowd of young men playing the game he loved so much.

FAR WEST TRADE GAINS NOTED IN BANK'S AUGUST REVIEW

Manager E. Ogden Hook, of Bank of America here, announces that increased activity in many lines of business in California and the far west are noted in the bank's business review for August, just released. Gains were noted in carloadings, power production, home building, retail trade, shipbuilding and tourist travel.

Value of building permits for all types of construction issued in thirty two principal California cities during August amounted to $15,504,893, a gain of 2.3 per cent over July. Permits for home building in eleven major California communities were valued at $7,921,000 for August, an increase of 21.4 per cent over July.

In retail trade, total sales of sixty four principal department and apparel stores in California rose 2 per cent in August. Weekly sales reports for the first part of September are taken as an indication of a continued rise in retail trade for the current month.

Canadian Motor Show Plans Revived

CAPITAL CALM BEFORE STORM

President Hopes For Speed; Isolationists Seek Long Discussion

WASHINGTON, (UP)—Party lines splintered today under weight of President Roosevelt's appeal to congress to remove the embargo against export of arms to warring nations.

Immediate objective of the administration is speed. Senate isolationists are maneuvering for long and hot debate.

The President's opponents promised a fight "from hell to breakfast." They claimed a nucleus of 30 to 35 senate votes.

Administration leaders cited the rally of conservative democrats to the President's standard as an omen of victory.

The big democratic majorities, however, appeared to be proportionately less broken on the neutrality issue than the republican front.

Congress is in three day recess. The President leaves today for a Hyde Park, N. Y., weekend.

The capital is experiencing a western front calm. But the fight is on with a splash of drama fit for fiction.

"Just two old men left—" mused Sen. Hiram W. Johnson, R., California, after 24 senators had met in his office to plan against repeal of the arms embargo.

In that same room 20 years ago 19 senators met to shake hands on "no compromise" opposition to Woodrow Wilson's league of nations. Johnson and Sen. William E. Borah, R., Idaho, are left today of that little group that converted a lost cause into a political triumph.

REGIONAL PWA OFFICE CONSOLIDATED AT SAN FRANCISCO

SAN FRANCISCO—Consolidation of the regional office of the Public Works Administration at Portland, Ore., with the PWA regional offices in San Francisco has been completed, Kenneth A. Goodwin, regional director, announced today.

Fifty-one members of the Portland regional office staff, representing nearly 50 per cent of the personnel, have been transferred to the San Francisco offices Director Godwin said. The remaining staff members will be furloughed as of September 23.

"Amalgamation of the two regional offices was ordered by Federal Works Administrator John M. Carmody for the purposes of economy," Director Godwin explained. "The regional merger, made necessary by the rapidly diminishing PWA program, will bring about a large saving in administrative and operating expenses."

Rumania Executes 100, Jails Thousands; U. S. Weather Maps "Censored"

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UP)—Federal Weather Bureau officials revealed today that henceforth weather maps would not contain a report on conditions in Canada because of military censorship.

Weather maps usually show air pressure and temperatures in the southern part of Canada. Canadian officials said that such information would be important to an enemy planning an aerial or naval attack.

Nazi and Soviet armies split up Poland today while next door Rumania sought to suppress terrorist remnants of the iron guard organization with concentration camps and firing squads.

Reports reaching Bucharest, but lacking official confirmation, indicated that more than 100 had been executed and thousands imprisoned as the new military government set up by King Carol to guard Rumanian neutrality avenged the assassination of Premier Armand Calinescu by the pro-Nazi iron guards.

On the western front, artillery fire was intensified by both Germans and French but there was little other action. In Poland, the defenders of Warsaw still held out as the German and Russian armies drew a line through the center of the country—far to the west of any previously indicated Soviet penetration—to mark their separate fields of activity.

From London, there were reports of heavy gunfire by naval units off the English coast indicating new attacks at several points against submarines. The government announced that British aircraft in action over the western front had shot down at least one German fighting plane. The first German (Continued on page 4)

U. S. Seeking Spy Ring

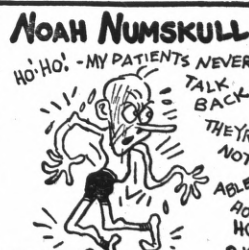

Agents Of Warring Nations Reported In New York "In Formidable Numbers"

NEW YORK, (UP)—Federal agents were understood today to be on the trail of one of the largest spy syndicates ever to operate in the United States and a number of arrests are expected soon.

The syndicate was uncovered by the augmented war time staff of the federal bureau of investigation, it was said. One of the suspects under surveillance was described as a woman known throughout the heavy German district of Yorkville as "Doc" or "The Duchess."

One version of the investigation held that this woman had taken over the coordinating work of Dr. Ignatz T. Griebel, who fled to Germany more than a year ago while under investigation in connection with the alleged theft of American defense secrets.

Other reports to government agents indicated that secret police of two warring nations are in New York City "in formidable numbers" and that several German Gestapo were aboard the liner Bremen when it left here although the German liner presumably carried no passengers.

Isaiah: Foretelling Birth of Messianic King

HIGHLIGHTS ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON 9-23

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
(The International Unitarian Lesson on the above topic for Sept. 24 is Isaiah 7:14; 9:1-7; 11:1-5, the Golden Text being Isaiah 9:6. "His name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, The Mighty God, The Everlasting Father, The Prince of Peace.")

TODAY WE go back to the Prophet Isaiah, who, you remember, lived at the same time as Micah, who was the subject of last week's lesson. The subject today is Isaiah's prophecies of the coming of Jesus. Isaiah undoubtedly thought the Messiah was coming very soon, as this nation badly needed a leader, as it was about to suffer invasion and the people captivity at the hands of the Assyrians. As a matter of fact, Jesus was not born until 700 years had passed. The time of today's lesson is placed around 734 B. C.

We cannot do better than to read and memorize the words of Isaiah, not only for their beauty, which, once learned, will remain in the consciousness all one's life, but for the foretelling, which most certainly describes Jesus.

"And there shall come forth a rod out of the stem of Jesse, and a Branch shall grow out of his roots."

Spirit of Lord Rests Upon Him

"And the Spirit of the Lord shall rest upon Him, the spirit of wisdom and understanding, the spirit of counsel and might, the spirit of knowledge and of the fear of the Lord." That quotation is taken from Isaiah 11, and in Chapter 9 he says:

"For unto us a Child is born, unto us a Son is given; and the government shall be upon His shoulders and His name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, The Mighty God, The Everlasting Father, The Prince of Peace."

All through the years the children of Israel kept the hope of the coming of the Messiah, and it cheered them through all their troubles. The Child, when it came, was to be called Immanuel, meaning "God is with us," says Isaiah. This Messiah shall be "quick of understanding in the fear of the Lord; and He shall not judge after the sight of His eyes, neither reprove after the hearing of His ears."

"But with righteousness shall He judge the poor, and reprove with equity for the meek of the earth; and He shall smite the earth with the rod of His mouth, and with the breath of His lips shall He slay the wicked."

"And righteousness shall be the girdle of His loins, and faithfulness the girdle of His reins."

Taught Way of Life

Jesus, when He came, did not liberate His people in the way the prophets expected. He taught the Way of Life which makes us all free if we will but follow it—a higher and more wonderful way than even the prophets understood.

All through the trials and tribulations of his people did Isaiah comfort them with promises of God's help if they would but rely upon Him.

"Why sayest thou, O Jacob, and speakest, O Israel, my way is hid from the Lord, and my judgment is passed over from my God?"

"Hast thou not known? hast thou not heard, that the everlasting God, the Lord, the Creator of the ends of the earth, fainteth not, neither is weary? there is no searching of His understanding."

"He giveth power to the faint; and to them that have no might He increaseth strength."

"Even the youths shall faint and be weary, and the young men shall utterly fall."

"But they that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings as eagles; they shall run and not be weary; and they shall walk, and not faint."

Next week we learn of the coming of Jesus and begin the study of His teachings.

"Matter" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon Sunday, September 17, in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

The Golden Text was: "My flesh and my heart faileth; but God is the strength of my heart, and my portion for ever" (Ps. 73:25). Other Bible citations included: "Behold, the Lord God will come with strong hand, and his arm shall rule for him: behold, his reward is with him, and his work before him. . . . Behold, the nations are as a drop of a bucket, and are counted as the small dust of the balance: behold, he taketh up the isles as a very little thing" (Isa. 40: 10, 15).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "As God Himself is good and is Spirit, goodness and spirituality must be immortal. Their opposites, evil and matter, are mortal error, and error has no creator. If goodness and spirituality are real, evil and materiality are unreal and cannot be the outcome of an infinite God, good" (p. 277).

Isaiah prophesies that in due time a virgin shall bear a son, and his name shall be called Immanuel.

Further he foretold that the child's name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, The Everlasting Father, The Prince of Peace.

"The spirit of the Lord shall rest upon Him," quoth Isaiah, "the spirit of wisdom and understanding."

And furthermore, He will not judge according to appearances, or hearsay, but with justice.

HOSTILITIES CREATE PROBLEM FOR MOTION PICTURE INDUSTRY; GOLDWYN NOTES FOREIGN TRADE TROUBLES

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Warning that the European war "threatens the entire structure of the motion picture industry," Samuel Goldwyn today called for an industry-wide conference to meet the crisis.

"Wholesale firing of wage-earners is not the answer" to the problem of reduced foreign picture receipts, Goldwyn asserted in a letter sent to Charles Brackett, president of the screen writers guild.

Copies went also to Jos. Schenck and Will Hays of the motion picture producers association; Frank Capra, president of the directors guild, and Ralph Morgan, head of the screen actors' guild.

Goldwyn asserted that "the facts"

are:

1. Two-thirds of Hollywood's English business is wiped out and the fate of the rest is problematical;

2. Canada is controlling export of funds, and is levying new movie taxes;

3. New Zealand is restricting currency export, and Australia is likely to follow suit;

4. American films are shown in Japan "but for some time no film company has gotten a single yen out";

5. Italy's market "is no longer available. Obviously, Czechoslovakia and Poland are gone";

6. France for years has returned little more than the film costs.

Curing Tot of Screaming

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.

"DEAR DR. MYERS:—In a family of five children we have one girl, aged six years, who seems unhappy most of the time. Her chief fault is screaming. When older brother teases, when she is denied a request, and sometimes for no apparent cause, she screams at the top of her voice."

"Matter" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon Sunday, September 17, in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

The Golden Text was: "My flesh and my heart faileth; but God is the strength of my heart, and my portion for ever" (Ps. 73:25). Other Bible citations included: "Behold, the Lord God will come with strong hand, and his arm shall rule for him: behold, his reward is with him, and his work before him. . . . Behold, the nations are as a drop of a bucket, and are counted as the small dust of the balance: behold, he taketh up the isles as a very little thing" (Isa. 40: 10, 15).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "As God Himself is good and is Spirit, goodness and spirituality must be immortal. Their opposites, evil and matter, are mortal error, and error has no creator. If goodness and spirituality are real, evil and materiality are unreal and cannot be the outcome of an infinite God, good" (p. 277).

"Of course we want to overcome the habit as soon as possible. I present the child is visiting her grandparents in another state. They report she is happy and well-behaved. We have hopes that she will forget the habit while she is away."

"How shall we deal with her when she returns?"

My reply to this mother was about as follows: It might be well to have this child carefully checked by a good doctor. Since she seems so happy and well-behaved with the grandparents, there must be something in your family relationships responsible for her screaming.

Perhaps she feels that all the other children have conspired against her; even that her parents do not love her so much as the rest of the children. Just because she screams so often, she gets less approval and more disapproval than the rest. Her feeling of jealousy makes her more prone to scream, and her screaming leads to relationships which cause her to feel more jealous. This vicious circle won't be easy to break up.

Perhaps you and Dad might show her more affection between screams—when she is good. You might also prevail upon the older children to help this child feel more worthwhile by celebrating her successes with her.

When you punish her for screaming, limit the punishment to sitting in a chair, but always make the sentence for a definite time as measured by the clock—say, exactly half an hour.

If, however, you could "get away with it" and the neighbors could stand it, a good plan might be to set a time when she would have to scream continuously for, say, fifteen minutes, all being present to witness the "show." Making a child repeat for some while an act that is very undesirable is a good way to make him so hate this act as to avoid it. The difficulty with such a plan is that if the child made up his mind not to do it as commanded, you would be ignominiously defeated.

NEW INFLUENZA OUTBREAK MAY ACCOMPANY EUROPE WAR

CHICAGO (AP)—The Journal of the American Medical Association today editorially quoted a noted Rockefeller Institute physician that the present European war may bring another outbreak of influenza similar to the epidemic of 1918.

War invariably means the spread of disease, the journal said.

"In practically every war for which accurate records are available disease has always caused more deaths than military maneuvers and engagements," the editorial said. "In many a great war epidemic has come to terminate the conflict."

Have all you people got your tickets for the field meet in Sacramento?

If not, you had better hurry because it is something you will not want to miss. And to make it more worth while, this town's best troop is going to be down there after the pennant that goes to the troop making the best score; and we'll get it, too, if all of the operations and practicing we are doing mean anything.

Last Thursday before the meeting several of the boys engaged in a rather wild water fight. The result: a lot of wet clothing and more spilled water.

We started the meeting off by trying to sing some songs, and now you know what all that racket was the other evening. Then, when we had finished our meeting we had some time left so we played games and had some races. —Bob Allen.

CAMINO NOTES

The Camino P. T. A. held its first meeting of the new school year Friday afternoon in the school auditorium with Mrs. C. H. Devine, president, presiding.

Plans were made to hold the annual bazaar Friday, October 27 to be carried out in the Halloween theme. The next meeting is to be held Friday evening, October 13, with a potluck dinner at 6 o'clock and the fathers are invited to attend. An interesting program is being prepared with Mrs. Amy Drysdale as a featured speaker and we also expect a speaker from the P. T. A. third district. It was decided not to resume the card parties until a later date, when it will be announced.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Steussy and son, John, of Sacramento, spent the weekend here with Mr. Steussy's father, Mr. George Davenport and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Bly, of Sacramento, spent the weekend at their summer home.

The new caboose that has just recently been completed by employees of the Michigan California Lumber Co., went into service on the Camino, Placerville and Lake Tahoe train Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Thompson, of Stockton, spent the weekend visiting Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ross at the cable.

Norman Apollonio has just completed two more small cottages on his place at Camino Heights.

Roy Lish, of Roseville, was up over the weekend hunting with Roy Braden at China Flat.

William Montgomery and Elmer Montgomery of Fair Oaks spent the weekend here. Elmer returned home Sunday with a deer.

C. P. Stevens enjoyed Sunday picnicking and fishing at Echo lake. By the daily appearance of the United States Flag flying over the grounds of Captain William Voiles' summer home we know he still is here enjoying the invigorating air of this community.

Among ours in Sacramento recently were Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Potts, son Jerry; Mrs. P. I. McNie, Mrs. C. P. Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Barkley, Myrtle Phelps, and Mr. P. Boromini and family.

quarters at Pino Grande of necessity because of the nature of his work and visited at Placerville and Smith Flat at such intervals during the busy season as opportunity afforded.

Actively at work seasonally, Mr. Cola had opportunity during the winter months to renew his social contacts and he and Mrs. Cola for a number of years past had been habitually and regularly in attendance at the various public whist parties of the winter season in different sections of the county.

Mr. Cola was a son of the late Peter and Maria Cola, who were early settlers in the Newtown district. Throughout his life he retained an active interest in the associations he formed as a pupil at the old Newtown school and in recent years had taken an active part in the annual reunion of pupils and teachers of the old school, being a member and a director of the reunion association.

During the course of his employment with the lumber company, Mr. Cola had established his family's home at Smith Flat, where he was known as a leader in the development of community affairs. In the broader field of his life, he was beloved for his many charitable considerations and esteemed for the attributes which made him a leading citizen and a devoted husband and father.

He became a member of Placerville Parlor No. 9, Native Sons of the Golden West, thirty years ago on August 10, last, and was a member of Placerville Aerie No. 889, F. O. E.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Angie R. Cola, of Smith Flat, and by two sons, Joseph C. Cola and William Cola.

He was the brother of William Cola, of Chico; Mrs. Rose Hanley, and Mrs. Eva Kingsley, of North Sacramento, and Mrs. Fred Wilkins of Martinez, and of the late John Cola.

er, Louis Galluppi, Roy Braden, Wm. Latimer, Jr., C. P. Stevens, Freeman Howard, Fred Fisher, R. Almond, D. Allison, and Mrs. William Snyder.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Lyons and daughter of Placerville were callers at Mrs. J. Potts home Tuesday.

FIVE MILE TERRACE

The current heat wave reached even our community in the foothills. The electrical display Tuesday evening was beautiful but a bit terrifying.

And were some of our hunters chagrined or were they? They spent most of last week preparing to camp out over the weekend, bought their bright red hats and red plaid shirts and odds and ends, then traveled miles in search of a buck. They returned empty handed only to learn that one local hunter had found two bucks fighting within a mile of his home and had taken his choice.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Wentz, of Yuba City, were visiting the Joe Williams on Sunday.

Mrs. Earl LeVitt was a business visitor in Sacramento Tuesday.

Mrs. Helen Byrnes, county school nurse, visited Blair's school on Monday.

The pupils at Blair's school enjoyed the regular birthday parties last term so much that they have voted to continue them this year. The children finance and plan these affairs and have formed a birthday club. Doris Hennings is the new president with Helen Noyes vice-president and Walter Griffith as secretary and treasurer. The September birthday party will be held on Friday afternoon, September 29.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Carr, of Redondo Beach, gave the Joe Millers a pleasant surprise one day last week when they called for a visit. The two families had not met since they were neighbors some ten years ago at Hermosa Beach.

Mrs. Daugherty came down from Kyburz last week to spend some time at her home here.

Mrs. Margaret Reed and a party of friends from Sacramento spent Sunday night at the home of her mother, Mrs. Linda J. Miller, returning to Sacramento Monday morning.

GOLD HILL NOTES

On Wednesday Mr. and Mrs. Will Miller had as their guests, Mr. and Mrs. R. Davey, of Sacramento, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Miller and daughter, Janis, of San Jose, and Mrs. Laura Stroup, of Placerville.

Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Fowler and Mrs. Elwin Veerkamp and children spent Monday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Veerkamp.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Veerkamp accompanied Miss Inez Veerkamp to the Amador County fair, Saturday. They were joined by Mrs. Sayers and Miss Louisiana Snell in Placerville.

Mrs. Cyrel Skinner and Bonnie Tyler of Valley Springs, Calaveras county, were guests at the Will Miller home on Saturday.

PENNIES PROVE NO ALLY TO ALTAR BOUND COUPLE

OAKLAND, (AP) — Henry Russell Matthew and Doris Muriely Banks, who planned more than a year ago to finance their marriage and their honeymoon with pennies, met with a little complication when the moment for getting married arrived.

They went to the marriage clerk with what they believed to be 200 pennies to buy a license. But the clerk insisted that under the law pennies are legal tender only up to 25 cents.

So from there they went to the county treasurer and changed the pennies into four half dollars. Just as the license was being issued, the treasurer telephoned to say that they given him 10 pennies too many and asked them to come back and collect.

They again returned to the treasurer's office, got the 10 extra pennies and came back finally to get the license.

They decided that the 10 extra pennies would be put in the family fund of hundreds of other pennies which they have saved up for their housekeeping.

JOHN CLEMENTS AND RALPH RICHARDSON trekking over the hot sands of the Sudan desert in a dramatic scene from Alexander Korda's technicolor adventure spectacle, "Four Feathers," which will begin a premiere engagement at the Empire Theatre Sunday through United Artists release.

"FUZZY-WUZZIES" SEEN
IN ALL COLOR FILM
AT EMPIRE SUNDAY

The Fuzzy-Wuzzies, Kipling's
"first-class fighting fellows," are presented in top form in Alexander Korda's all-color film of the Sudan.
"Four Feathers," which is slated for its premiere showing at the Empire Theatre Sunday and Monday.
Directed by Zoltan Korda, "Four Feathers" depicts the dramatic story of Harry Faversham who redeems himself by a series of dare-devil adventures during Kitchener's campaign in the Sudan, after his closest friends and the girl he is engaged to marry dub him a coward by sending him four white feathers.

As is well known, the Fuzzy-Wuz-zies are wild, independent men, tall, beautifully proportioned and extremely brave. When several hundred of them were hired, through proper official channels, to appear in "Four Feathers," they travelled by rail to the spot where the Korda brothers had established a huge location camp on the banks of the Nile. When they arrived at the nearest depot they refused to get out of their trains until they had finished the war song they were singing.

Buick For '40

Shown Today

Despite Improvements In Quality And Performances,
Prices Are Much Lower

The new Buick line for 1940, consisting of six series of automobiles, two of which are entirely new, is announced today and a sedan of the special series is on display in the showroom of Bert Frey, local Buick dealer.

The two new series, the Super and the Roadmaster, are highly advanced cars, introducing ultra modern features of styling and advance engineering practices. The other four, the Special, Century and Limited (on two wheelbases) are improved versions of previous models with a long array of advances in body styling, chassis and equipment according to Mr. Frey.

Notwithstanding the sweeping improvements in style, quality and performance, the delivered prices of the 1940 Buick cars are substantially lower than last year, with reductions ranging from $79 to $350, the dealer stated. "In addition, the new low prices will include as standard equipment numerous accessories which were not on the 1939 cars," he said.

"Outstanding structural and design features, including such important items as improved torque tube drive; independent front wheel suspension, Buicoll rear spring suspension, ride stabilization fore and aft, more powerful hydraulic brakes, and improved lighting and electrical equipment, are incorporated in the cars.

"In addition, the 1940 cars have improved front and rear direction signals, Foamex rubber seat cushions, engine turned instrument panels, sealed beam safety headlights, entirely new frames, new engine mountings, new carburetion, addition of oil filters on all engines, better direct steering linkage, improved handshift gear control, a marked improvement in shock absorber equipment, new safety free reeling inside rear door handles, windshield wiper boosters, larger tires, an improved system of tire changing, and a host of other refinements marking them as complete and luxuriously equipped automobiles.

"The Buick series 50 Super and series 70 Roadmaster are available in two models, a six passenger touring sedan and a sport coupe having full width rear seat. The two series have been engineered to include new developments in materials, methods and design, and embody the smooth curving lines of practical streamlining for lower wind resistance and increased beauty.

"POTATO PICKING" TITLE
WILL BE DECIDED
TONIGHT

BLACKFOOT, Ida. (UP)—The odds
on Challenger C. A. (Spud) Bottolfson, of Boise, took a sudden rise today on the strength from his training camp that he had perfected a "mystery hook" for his potato picking battle with Champion Lewis O.
(Spud) Barrows, Augusta, Me., at the Western Idaho Fair Grounds here tonight.

The reports sent the odds on Bot-tolfson soaring to even money. Previously the betting had been three to two on the champion, who a year ago defeated the recently retired Brazillia W. (Spud) Clark with a terrific two-handed attack and as brilliant a display of footwork as had ever been seen in a Maine potato patch.

Champion Barrows, who is governor of Maine, and Bottolfson, governor of Idaho, meet in a specially planted and highly cultivated potato patch in front of the fair grandstand. In coveralls sporting their respective state colors, each will straddle a row of plowedup potatoes and a burlap bag attached to his mid-section, picking, sacking and hobbling forward for five minutes. The winner will be declared on the basis of the weight of potatoes sacked.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bond and Mrs.
Merle Thomas, were in San Francisco Wednesday, attending an advance showing of new cars.
